Report of the Superintendent of Schools

I herewith submit this my second annual report to the school board and citizens of the town of Weare.

The work of the year has, in the main, been successful and progressive with nothing that can be called striking or radical. The teachers have been loyal and faithful in their work and have co-operated earnestly in everything to serve the best interests of the pupils. A great part of the success obtained has been due to the co-operation of the members of the school board. But few changes have been made in method, and these were to carry out the plans put into operation last year.

The preparation of the boys and girls for citizenship is the end and aim of school work; and how to make this preparation the best; and how to give to youth such an outlook upon life that he may be prepared to face honestly and courageously the difficulties which he is sure to meet is the problem which faces the community and the school authorities. Whether the schools shall follow tradition aad aim at college preparation, or whether they shall take up the work of preparation for life along modern lines and secure a better adjustment to the vocational environment and a greater appreciation for the work of father and mother are the questions now facing us and demanding an answer.

In this connection it must be remembered that most of our school work and methods are the result of the progressive work of many years and their value has been proven by time and experience. In the struggle to be progressive and to adopt the new, that which has stood the test of time must be retained, and about this must be grouped the best from the new. True progress must ever be conservative and constructive rather than radical and destructive.

Much attention has been given to the improvement and adjustment of text-books to meet the needs of the pupils and conform to the demands of the state program of studies. The teachers have been directed in method and aided in the solution of the problems of management which have come to our attention. Nearly all the teachers have secured at least one book for professional advancement. The grading of pupils is beginning to conform to the state program as far as it is consistent in rural schools where flexibility is a virtue. Reading, writing and spelling have received close attention. Arithmetic has not been neglected but is now receiving a closer supervision and direction. We hope to secure satisfactory results in these essentials and, at the same time, do something along cultural and industrial lines. We solicit your co-operation.

Ten rural one-room schools and the two-room school at East Weare have been maintained thus far during this school year. Approximately 214 pupils have been generally regular in attendance. Of these 109 are girls and 105 are boys. There are still a few retarded pupils. About one-half of those in school last year have either left school or have been brought up to grade by individual instruction and added interest. If the town does not adopt the provisions of the new medical inspection act, it would be well to have a close parental inspection and co-operation with the school authorities in correcting those physical defects which are the causes of retardation and poor attendance. A few cases of adenoids and eye strain have been detected. Many of the pupils have decaying teeth, especially the first or six year molars. We often under-estimate the injurious effect educationally of these physical defects.

The school buildings are generally in good condition. Some improvements have been made in the way of black-boards, out-buildings, seating and lighting, and yet there remains a few schools which should be reseated and given better black-board equipment. Manual training has been started at North Weare at a small expense to the town as an experiment and, we believe, has been favorably received. There are other schools where this work can be started with profit, if the community desire it and conditions are favorable. Sewing has been taught in several of the schools where time could be so used. Cooking of dinners has been a part of the work of the older girls in three of the schools. We believe these beginnings in industrial work are worthy of continuation and the expenditure of some money for needed equipment.

The town of Weare has, in general, very successful teachers. These should be retained if possible. The state aid, which the town received last year and hopes to receive this year, makes it possible to increase the the salary of qualified teachers and retain their services longer than could be without state aid. More reading material should be secured for the lower grades, that correct habits of silent reading may be formed, and reference books for the upper grades, that the work may be broader or more intensely cultural. We should strive to maintain at least thirty-four weeks of school, the average of the state in most of the schools, and thirty-six weeks in larger village schools where per capita expenditure is least and demands upon the teacher greater.

We ask for your support and co-operation in making the schools of Weare real live institutions for the training of the youth for citizenship by the use of methods calculated to employ the natural buoyant loyal spirit of the pupils and by introducing the substance of life and its activities into the work of the school. By this method we shall be able to demonstrate that even the isolated country school, while such shall continue to exist, may be made to merit the praise of the community in which it is found on account of the impetus and the ideals of living that the school inculcates. Such an ideal is not impossible of accomplishment, but in requires the active participation of a superintendent and the co-operation of school officials, teachers and citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

F. J. BEST,
Superintendent.
